

In response to growing public awareness about values such as diversity and pluralism and their influence on modern society, Interfaith Dialog Center Women Association launched a discussion series entitled "IDC Women Gatherings" (formerly named as Fresh Start Women Discussions).

With this discussion series, IDC Women Association aims to build a platform for the women from various professions to engage in open discussions in an intellectual and respectful environment on issues ranging from education to various moral and social issues.

The series are built on the learning journeys organized by IDC Women Association to offer women the opportunity to voice and exchange opinions with others from diverse backgrounds that stand on the common ground of peace, understanding and mutual respect.

If you are interested in co-organizing a gathering, you may either host one at your place or help us find a place in your town. Just choose a time that best meets your demanding schedule and contact us.

For further details please contact IDC via email at infoidc(a)idcnj.com* or through calling 973-353-9333.

Please note these discussions are women only events.
